

Holshouser Returns To Burke For Campaigning

Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Holshouser chats with college students during one of several stops made in a return campaign visit to Burke County yesterday. Holshouser, former state GOP chairman, attended a coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DiSanto to start the day's activities, which included a visit to Western Piedmont Community College where he fielded questions from students. A number of students remained to further discussion, as shown here, after his formal presentation. (Staff photo).
