

East Burke WPCC site to expand

Since the opening of Western Piedmont Community College East Burke Center at Hildebran Elementary School annex building, the college has already had to expand its class offerings there this quarter, according to George Fouts, vice president of academic affairs at the college.

Fouts added that the college will continue to offer courses requested "whenever possible."

The additional classes are two areobic fitness classes to be taught at the HES annex building by Von Drehle on Monday and Wednesday evenings. The first class is scheduled from 6-7 p.m. and the second, from 7-8 p.m. on the same evenings. Classes begin today and continue through Nov. 23. Students may register during the first class session. Registration cost is $4.75.

The East Burke Center also offers continuing education classes in adult basic education, high school completion, and college transfer courses in English and mathematics. The Criminal Justice Program previously taught in Newton will now be offered at the East Burke Center. In addition, students may enroll in the Industrial Management Program there.

For additional information interested students may visit the East Burke Center in Hildebran at First Street, SW, or call 397-6067.
