

Western Piedmont begins online computer courses

The Continuing Education Division of Western Piedmont Community College is now offering online computer courses.

These courses are delivered in an interactive format via the Internet. Students are able to read lessons, complete assignments and ask questions from the convenience of home or office.

Each course runs for six weeks and consists of 12 lessons. Lessons are supplemented by interactive quizzes, assignments, tutorials and online discussion areas. All materials are made available over the World Wide Web. All you need to get started is Internet access, an e-mail address and a Web browser. A variety of subjects is currently being offered, including Creating Web Pages (HTML), Creating Web Graphics, Photoshop Basics, Microsoft Word and Microsoft Excel.

Courses begin the second Wednesday of each month. Registration cost is $55 per person. Visit <http://www.ed2go.com/wpcc> for requirements, demonstrations and additional information. To register, call Nancy Rockett at 430-7135.
